HELP PROTECT BABIES WHOSE PARENTS CAN'T KEEP THEM

The Safe Haven Baby Box is a device where parents can legally give up a newborn who is no more than 30 days old. As long as the baby has not been abused or neglected, the parent may anonymously use a Safe Haven Baby Box without fear of arrest or prosecution. Currently, a parent can surrender an infant at the hospital emergency room, police departments, and manned fire stations.

There are already six designated baby boxes in Arkansas, and the St. Peter the Fisherman Health Ministry, along with the Knights of Columbus would like to bring a Safe Haven Baby Box to the Twin Lakes Area. A location has been selected and a goal of $16,000 has been set.

Look for our table in the vestibule after Mass on July 10th. Donations will be accepted at that time. Please make checks payable to Knights of Columbus Charities, Inc. and include "Safe Haven Baby Box" on the memo line.

Being Catholic ...

I was recently speaking with another Christian about whether non-Christians can go to heaven.

She said that the only way someone can go to heaven is through Jesus Christ. I believe an all-loving God would not deny heaven to those who do not know Jesus Christ. What can I say to her?

Whoever is in heaven is indeed there because of the saving passion, death, and resurrection of Jesus Christ. That does not mean, however, that everyone in heaven had an explicit faith in Jesus before arriving there or was even baptized.

The saying "Outside the Church there is no salvation" is credited to St. Cyprian (third century). More than 150 years later, St. Augustine wrote that the Church has some people whom God does not have, and God has some people whom the Church does not have. Father Leonard Feeney, SJ, was excommunicated in 1953 for his overly strict interpretation of St. Cyprian's saying. He was later reconciled with the Roman Catholic Church, which continues to reject his position on this issue.

At Vatican II, a document on Catholicism's relation to Judaism eventually became the "Decree on the Relationship of the Church to Non-Christian Religions" (approved October 28, 1965). After addressing how Hinduism and Buddhism address deep human needs, the bishops wrote: "So, too, other religions which are found throughout the world, attempt in different ways to overcome the restlessness of people's hearts by outlining a program of life covering doctrine, moral precepts, and sacred rites.

After acknowledging Muslims who worship one God, venerate Jesus as a prophet, honor Mary, and are devoted to prayer, almsgiving, and fasting, the decree describes Catholicism's debt to and unique relationship with Jewish people, specifically rejecting the claim that they are cursed for the part some Jews played with the Romans in Jesus' death.

According to Vatican II's "Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World," Christians have been configured to the death of Christ but go forward in hope to the resurrection. The text immediately adds: "All this holds true not only for Christians but also for all people of good will in whose hearts grace is active invisibly. For since Christ died for everyone, and since all are in fact called to one and the same destiny, which is divine, we must hold that the Holy Spirit offers to all the possibility of being made partners, in a way known to God, in the paschal mystery".

God's judgment must remain God's judgment! No one can replace God's judgment with human judgment.
